There is a virtue that has distinguished all Souverän®-family writing instruments since 1982. This virtue is called permanence. Not everyone can adapt and still remain true to who they are. It demands a strong character and uniqueness. The quintessential Pelikan stripes, for instance, are an unmistakable symbol of the Souverän® brand. For decades, they have been a source of fascination for fans around the world. The black-and-green striped anniversary icon pays tribute to this classic status befitting a sovereign. With a new special limited edition, it rekindles old desires – desires that will never fade.
